

Luxury villa on the beach #5877

€2,750,000

Are you looking for a villa on the beach? Then you have found the right place!

An architect-designed dream house is being built here as close to the shoreline as possible. The entire facade, which faces the sea, is made of glass so you experience the contact with the sea wherever you are in the house! Of course, the glass is designed so you can not see in, so you are still completely private.

This is a unique opportunity, as there are extremely few plots available with this magnificent location right on the sandy beach and licensed to start building.

The structure and design of the façade is approved by the municipality, but inside you have the opportunity to make the changes you want together with the architect.
